

The New Rose

Contributed by Admin
Thursday, 05 April 2007

The New Rose

Since ancient times lilies have been part of myths and customs. Nowadays, people use lily bouquets in funerals to symbolize the purity of the dead.

Its association with death came from hundreds of years earlier. But today people are discovering the natural beauty of the flower for many others occasions.

The New Rose

Since ancient times lilies have been part of myths and customs. Nowadays, people use lily bouquets in funerals to symbolize the purity of the dead.

Its association with death came from hundreds of years earlier. But today people are discovering the natural beauty of the flower for many others occasions.

Since spring is considered a time of renovation, lily bouquets seem to be excellent for ceremonies and receptions, specially those related with weddings, cause the ambience receives the beauty and the associated purity and faith.

Also colors of lily bouquets are offered to surroundings which make them perfect for any kind of wedding. If your wedding is on winter, don't worry, they can even be shipped during the coldest months.

The decoration of anniversary parties and family reunions is another option. The bouquets contribute to the time of joy or the renewed faith in regard to the occasion.

For family reunions, there's nothing better than lily bouquets to remember us the wonderful souls we get to share our lives.

Florists have noticed an increase in demand of these flowers, which are considered the new rose cause more and more often they are replacing roses.

As you can find different sizes, shapes or colors, is important to choose the right style of lily bouquets to your event. If you are lucky, you can find a shop that will make the bouquets any color you want or will arrange them as you wish.

To satisfy your needs you can look for local flower shops, as they tend to cater to the local community more precisely than if you were to use a national flower service.